

INFORMATION FOR JOURNALISTS

Action camp 24 - 31 August

From the 24th until the 31st of August Code Rood organizes an action camp in Groningen. The camp provides an interesting programme, which includes discussion panels, workshops, speakers and artists, including Swedish writer Andreas Malm (Fossil Capital) and the Dutch artist Patricia Kaersenhout. At the camp, we also organize action trainings and prepare for the mass sit-in on the 28th of August.

The media and communication (MeCom) working groups supports journalists and documentary makers in reporting on the camp and the action, while at the same time making sure that participants feel safe at the camp. For this reason, we kindly request journalists to meet us at the media-bus when they arrive at the camp or email us before arrival at: coderood-mecom@riseup.net.

If you would like to interview participants, we ask you to make sure you introduce yourself as a journalist at the start of any conversation. Participants can always refuse to participate in an interview and refer you to our formal spokes persons. The names of participants can only be used with their permission. Our spokes persons are available for interviews and can help journalists to speak to other participants.

Taking photographs and filming at the camp is only allowed with full consent of the people on the picture/film. We request photographers and movie-makers to respect people's wish for privacy and also take into account the people who may be visible in the background. During plenary sessions, including action trainings and briefings, we never allow camera's, unless with explicit permission of everybody involved. We also do not allow camera's in areas where people are resting or sleeping.

The location of the camp will be shared on the website of Code Rood in the week of the 20st of August.

Action training 27 August

On Monday the 27th of August, we organise a public action training at the camp at 14.30 hrs. Journalists are welcome to take pictures or film at this action training. The training will include practicing a sit-in. Participants are available for interviews after the action training. If you want to be present at this training, please let us know at: coderood-mecom@riseup.net.

Sit-in from the 28th of August

On the 28th of August, we will begin a mass sit-in blockade against the gas extraction. We will use our bodies to block trucks carrying the dangerous and poisonous gascondensate to the storage facility in Farmsum/Delfzijl. This will significantly disrupt the gas extraction operations in the region.

If you wish to be present at the sit-in from the start, we advise you to contact us at: coderood-mecom@riseup.net. We can get you in touch with participants that you can join into the action.
